APCO Project 25 Trunking On The Way

On the leading edge of radio design, the BK Radio D series mobile is one of the first and few to incorporate technology that meets or exceeds the specifications and requirements of the public safety radio standard known as APCO Project 25 (P25). This includes interoperability with radios of any manufacturer whose radios are also in full compliance with strict P25 specifications.

Its next-generation design means that functions and features are software-driven, which enables built-in versatility, flexibility, intelligence, and the potential for future enhancements along with inherent efficiencies that result in significant cost savings without compromising or sacrificing quality, performance, reliability, or durability even under the most demanding public safety conditions.

Windows-based programming is focused on the practical needs and requirements of the radio user. Despite a wide variety of individual options, the BK Radio DMH digital mobiles are always easy to use – a critically important factor in emergency conditions.

Programming steps are simple and intuitive – no matter how sophisticated the end result – so that all DMH units are especially easy to customize to the user's specific situation and requirements.

All 400 channels can be programmed for digital operation, analog operation, or both. Frequencies programmed for mixed-mode operation recognize the format of a received signal and automatically transmit in the same format.

The D Series mobile radio also has the ability to clone group information from BK Radio portables; DPH, GPH, EPH, and LPH.

Additional economies are realized by using the accessories you already have for other BK Radio units such as antennas, microphones, and cloning and programming cables.
