Our engineers have extensive experience in cost estimating and bidding gained on projects which were bid and successfully constructed. This experience was gained by Mark Pennington estimating costs for construction projects for competitive bidding while working for Heeter Construction, of Spencer, West Virginia. See Resume for Mark Pennington. Hayward Phillips, our senior construction inspector, has over 55 years experience estimating and building all types of construction. Our construction experience is invaluable in the development of accurate cost estimates for budgeting, and development of practical designs which are "constructable".

- Construction Contract Administration: We have, or are providing contract administration on virtually all of the civil projects listed herein. Our experience has been gained administering contracts on projects ranging in size and complexity from a few hundred thousand to upwards of 30 million plus for the Southridge Centre/Ridgeline developments. Mark Pennington also served as assistant project manager on a 10 million dollar flood levee construction project for the City of Moorefield, West Virginia in 1996, while employed with Heeter Construction.
