SPECIFICATIONS

1. PURPOSE AND SCOPE: The West Virginia Purchasing Division is soliciting bids on behalf of the West Virginia Development Office (WVDO) to establish a contract to provide an assessment of the West Virginia Flex-E-Grant program. This project is time sensitive and must be completed in its entirety by: September 16, 2016.

The West Virginia Flex-E-Grant (FEG) program was first implemented in FY 2001. Funding for the program is provided through the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) and through a partnership with the Claude Worthington Benedum Foundation. The program is administered by the West Virginia Development Office (WVDO).

The FEG program provides small mini-grants to nonprofit organizations and units of local government for short-term capacity-building projects. Projects focus on planning (such as community planning, strategic planning, and feasibility studies), training (board development, training for community members in leaderships skills) or civic engagement (creating a new community organization, conducting community forums and workshops). Projects have up to ten months to complete their scope of work, after which they submit a final report and are closed out. Applicants need to provide a small match, and the total project cost cannot exceed $10,000 (inclusive of the match and award). The program places a priority on projects from ARC-designated distressed counties.

The assessment will examine how FEG mini-projects have changed the behavior, skills, and conditions of individuals, organizations, and communities so that they are more able to create and sustain community and regional scale improvement efforts. The assessment will look at the impacts of mini-grant projects beyond the immediate outcome identified at the conclusion of the mini-grant project period, focusing instead on best practices in community capacity building (germane to conditions in West Virginia), key factors in creating, institutionalizing, and sustaining community improvement efforts, and recommendations for program design to promote the identified key factors.

If the reduced bid or offer prices are made in writing and supersede the prior bid or offer prices, all bids or offers, including the reduced bid or offer prices, will be reevaluated in accordance with this rule.
