Responses to Questions from Vendors

Question 1

I see in the West Virginia DOT Section 661 661.2 materials calls out that the conversion coating to be ASTM B449, which is based on hexavalent chromium chemistry. Would a ASTM B-921 be acceptable (details attached)?

Response 1

We have not adopted the new alternative ASTM Standard B921 therefore we would not accept it at this time and the product shall meet the current B449 called out in the specifications.
