Comments: Elite Technical, a Woman Owned Small Business with a DOD TOP SECRET Government clearance and 34 years (est. 1992) of IT Staffing experience, has successfully filled a critical Mainframe, Oracle, SQL, GIS Application positions with several of our government, healthcare and financial customers since our inception. We are successful by combining deep technical insight with a highly targeted recruiting strategy. From the outset, our team worked closely with our clients to understand not just the technical requirements, but also the organizational culture and long-term goals of the business. Leveraging our network of specialized IT professionals and passive candidates, we identified individuals with extensive experience in maintaining and enhancing mainframe systems in high-stakes environments. Rather than relying solely on active applicants, we proactively engaged candidates who were not actively job-seeking but possessed the niche skill set required. Throughout the selection process, our team maintained clear communication with both the client and candidates, ensuring alignment on expectations, timelines, and technical competencies. Rigorous screening, including technical assessments and in-depth video interviews, allowed us to present only the most qualified candidates. Ultimately, we placed 4,000+ seasoned IT professionals who not only met the technical demands of the position but also brought strategic insight into system optimization and modernization.
