Betty:

The Ford vehicles bid on MV07 for classes 14, 21, 33, and 33A are 2008 model trucks.

Ford will begin production on January 3, 2007. We are currently not able to accept orders for these vehicles but expect to be able to do so by early December. Also, for the new model year some of the options are changing. New options will be available, some will be discontinued, and option package content will change. We currently do not have option pricing but Ford fleet operations has informed me that pricing will be available "a few weeks prior to the first day of production". I will monitor this daily and report to you as soon as it is available.

Thank you and please feel free to call me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Richard Stephens
General Manager
