Mildred Mitchell-Bateman Hospital*

The Mildred Mitchell-Bateman Hospital in Huntington, West Virginia, is one of the many eligible organizations that have been able to utilize the services of WV Surplus. Recently, staff members from the hospital acquired new office furniture, including desks, office chairs, lateral file cabinets, bookcases and printer stands.

"I learned about WV Surplus when I became a purchasing assistant through our procurement specialist, Sheila Ramey," said Central Receiving Supervisor Pam Stamper of Mildred Mitchell-Bateman Hospital. "We have used WV Surplus to replace worn out items for offices when new purchases were not in our budget."

In addition to making multiple purchases for

New Video on Screening Federal Property Now Available Online

In an effort to better assist eligible organizations, WV Surplus has been working to update its website with new resources. Last year's efforts included the creation of a webpage dedicated to the Federal Property Program. This page was recently updated to include a video on how to screen for property on the General Services Administration's website, GSAXcess.com.

"While we have many eligible organizations interested in federal property, they often find the screening process to be complicated or intimidating," shared WV Surplus Manager Elizabeth Cooper. "This video provides a step-by-step look at how to use the website and different methods of screening for property."

WV Surplus Resumes Monday-Friday Operations and Prepares for Upcoming Spring Webinars

One year ago, WV Surplus was forced to temporarily close our warehouse due to COVID-19. While this was a difficult decision to make, it was in accordance with Gov. Jim Justice's orders to work from home and the Kanawha-Charleston Health Department's order to limit the number of individuals in public spaces. Since then, we have continued to follow state and federal COVID-19 guidelines while adjusting our operating procedures.

Just a few weeks ago WV Surplus was able to reopen the warehouse to the public five days a week. While we are still operating on reduced hours, I know our customers have missed being able to shop at WV Surplus on Mondays and Fridays. Until further notice, the WV Surplus warehouse will be open to the general public from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Despite temporarily closing our doors to the public last year, WV Surplus did not stop operations.

Using our online auction site, GovDeals, people around the state were still able to access great sales offered by WV Surplus. You can learn more about how our online auctions work on page 3 and see a map of where WV Surplus has sold property statewide on page 4.

I would also like to remind everyone of several upcoming virtual events at WV Surplus. Our event for veterans who own small businesses was rescheduled to April 7, 2021, and registration is still open. This training will cover information on how veterans can benefit from the Veterans Small Business Enhancement Act of 2018 and the process to request federal property. While this event is free, registration is required and can be completed by visiting eventbrite.com/e/136450435927.

WV Surplus will also be hosting its popular webinar for eligible organizations on April 13, 2021, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. All eligible organizations (e.g. municipalities, churches, schools, nonprofits, etc.)

THE MANAGER'S PERSPECTIVE

are invited to participate in this free webinar. This event will include information on how to register with WV Surplus, the benefits of being registered, how to access federal property, and more. Individuals interested in attending this event should RSVP to Jessica.L.Chambers@wv.gov.

As the weather continues to improve, we hope to see our loyal customers visiting the warehouse or joining us virtually for one of these upcoming events. As always, we are so grateful for your support during these ever-changing times.

WV Surplus recently posted a detailed video on how to screen for federal property on the GSAXcess website. In addition to reviewing the requirements for using this website, the video includes information on different ways to screen for property.

1949, federal property is available to state and local public entities and nonprofit organizations that have a current Application for Eligibility on file with WV Surplus. The federal property program offers a wide variety of items, including boats, computers, industrial/trade machinery, lab equipment, tractors, and much more.

This video on how to screen for federal property can be found at WVSurplus.gov under the "Federal Property" section or on YouTube at <https://youtu.be/LeJNanQSiNg>.

Organizations interested in obtaining federal property may screen the property at GSAXcess.gov using their unique user ID and password. Interested eligible organizations must call 304.766.2626 to obtain a user ID and password.

Online Auction Site, GovDeals, Provides Access to Retired State Property Located Around the State

Did you know that WV Surplus sells a variety of property using its online auction site, GovDeals? Items available on GovDeals range from vehicles and machinery to more unique items, such as canoes, butcher block tables, and telescopes.

While the property listed on GovDeals is sometimes located in Dunbar, items in the listings can be physically located all across the state of West Virginia, including the current posting of items located in Wheeling, Pipestem State Park, Hedgesville, and Beckley. To see a map of where GovDeals assets have been since January 2020, see page 4.

“GovDeals allows WV Surplus to auction property that may not be practical to relocate to Dunbar or sell as bulk items,” said WV Surplus Manager Elizabeth Cooper. “We list items with the same great prices you would expect to find at our warehouse and try to provide multiple pictures and views of what is available.”

To see what property is available, visit GovDeals.com and search “West Virginia State Agency for Surplus Property” or “WV Surplus.” A direct link can also be found by visiting WVSurplus.gov and clicking the “Online Sales/GovDeals” button on the bottom right corner of the homepage.

Eligible organizations interested in any property they see on GovDeals are encouraged to call WV Surplus at 304.356.2428. Questions about our GovDeal auctions can be directed to 304.766.2626 for more information.

Mildred Mitchell-Bateman Hospital, Stamper has also shopped at WV Surplus as a member of the public.

“The staff is very friendly and helpful at WV Surplus,” added Stamp-er. “The items Mildred Mitchell-Bateman Hospital purchased were of good quality. I recommend all state agencies look to Surplus for their office furniture when the need arises.”

WV Surplus employees are honored to support eligible organizations from around the state with affordable merchandise options. Does your organization have a need? Contact WV Surplus at 304.766.2626 or visit our website at WVSurplus.gov to learn how WV Surplus can assist with future purchases.
