Addendum #1 WSH10003

To response to vendor questions, as follows:

1. Are you looking for a true TPM approach, or less formal approach that supports training toward maintenance prevention by minimizing the amount of intervention without sacrificing equipment reliability?
The maintenance staff of the hospital is very involved in all aspects of the HVAC system. We would like the vendor that is selected to be able to take a TPM approach with the understanding that we are very involved and often solve problems on our own. When any maintenance is done to the system, the hospital staff will be present to observe/learn what is being done to the system.
2. Will there or are there KPI's and/or procedures in place currently?
There is no formal KPI or procedure in place currently, but we are looking to build a more formal approach for maintaining the HVAC system.
3. What are your expectations as it pertains to the "periodic test/inspection/check of operator maintenance performance, effectiveness of operator maintenance training and results"
Ensure that our staff are monitoring and maintaining the equipment in the appropriate manner. Bring any issues that are found to the attention of the hospital staff and educate on better practices.
4. What are your expectations as it pertains to "The contractor will inspect the work of the hospital personnel monthly to ensure adequateness of operator maintenance and needs for changes in procedure and/or additional training for hospital personnel?
Part of the monthly maintenance will be to report on any items that you feel could be maintained in a better manner or any neglect to report problems on the part of the hospital's maintenance staff.
5. This looks like a full coverage agreement, is that correct?
Yes, that is correct. This maintenance agreement is an all inclusive agreement to provide maintenance on the entire HVAC system.
6. Are there any set-aside monies for this?
N/A
7. Are there any preferences – e.g., SDVOB?
No, vendor will be selected on the basis of meeting the specification of the RFQ and the most competitive price.
8. Train and certify operators to perform normal operator maintenance. . . please define?
This is a matter of training hospital maintenance staff to do normal maintenance and operational functions of the system.
9. I see that you have the Johnson Metasys in place for the controls side; do you currently have separate agreements (1) one for the controls side by X company and one for the mechanical side company Y. If so please confirm that is your intent to have one single source provider (one for both the controls side and mechanical)?

Yes, this contract is for a single vendor to maintain the mechanical and control systems.

Would you consider changing out the entire systems with something similar?

We would only consider replacing the system when it is no longer financially feasible to maintain its operation.

10 What labor classification should be used in determining the prevailing wage scale for this quote?

It's the vendor's responsibility to check with the Department of Labor to see what rate would apply for the type of work being performed on this project.

11 For the AHU's- are they all constant volume or are some of them variable volume and what HP are they?

Constant fan speed, variable volume - HP varies (15 up to 35)

12. For the chillers- it says the contractor will provide 2 oil analyses and 2 vibration analyses a year on the chiller- is that 1 vibration analysis/oil analysis per chiller a year or 2 vibration analysis/oil analyses per chiller per year?

*Spring and Fall Oil Analyses
Spring for Vibration Analyses*

The following are changes or additions to the RFQ:

1. The following two components of the HVAC system were left off the RFQ:

Hastings Unit - Serial Number 46730 -- Model IHVB/600/FS

Hastings Unit - Serial Number 46731 - Model IHVB/100/FS

2. The following should be specified on page 8 under the section "Vendor must include the following diagnostic service:

The contractor will be responsible for an annual spring inspection of the boiler which will include: teardown, inspect and clean burner bed, brush and flush tubes, replace door gaskets, and check all safety devices.
