DCH10066Addendum No. 1*QUESTION:

It would be helpful to know what other manufacturers would be considered as equal. This can be accomplished by providing a list of the manufactures that requested a bid package.

RESPONSE:

It is up to the Vendor to conduct research into other manufacturers that may be capable of supplying an alternate product. The Owner is responsible for making the determination as to whether a product is acceptable as a substitute.

QUESTION:

To match the existing units, it is necessary for the controls and safety devices be exactly the same. To accomplish this, it would seem best to stick to the written specifications without any substitution. Is this your intent?

RESPONSE:

If a Vendor is capable of proving that a system is capable of seamless compatibility with the existing system then the Agency would consider substitutes. However, if the specification is the appropriate choice as far as compatibility, safety, and cost effectiveness; then the Vendor should consider staying with the written specification.

QUESTION:

When will this project need to be installed?

RESPONSE:

The successful vendor will have 180 days from the notice to proceed to complete the project as indicated in the RFQ.
