GPS Radio Bear Collars

Question 1:

There is one "bullet point" specification that we cannot meet...point #7, remote download..

There are two others that we will be very close on, but not exact.

Please let me know if we should still submit a bid or it will be rejected.

Response:

The ability to remotely download daily location data from each of the collars is a mandatory requirement that must be met by the vendor that builds the collars.

The two other specifications that ATS will be very close on, but not exact were not indicated in the question. Therefore, we cannot provide a response.
