EBA228 WNPB Antenna Removal and Repositioning

Addendum No. 2

Question 1:

Concerning the above referenced project, can you tell me if a structural analysis has been completed on the tower to support this new loading condition? Substantial changes are being made to the equipment on the tower and it is always our recommendation that a structural analysis be performed whenever such changes are contemplated. If an analysis has been completed looking at this new condition, is it possible for you to send me a copy?

Answer 1:

West Virginia Public Broadcasting requests that an addendum be added to the bids to indicate that a structural analysis shall be conducted on the tower and that analysis shall be part of the bid submitted.

Question 2:

Upon looking back through our files, I found the last analysis we performed on this tower was back in October of 2003 (Analysis Report # 191005). I am including a page from that report for your review that shows the tower cross section we used in the analysis. If the tower cross section shown is still accurate, would you like us to include in our proposal for the cutting off of the extension of the angle support?

Answer 2: WV Public Broadcasting does not want the extension of the angle support cut off.
