Developing a System of Training and Educational Support for the West Virginia Oil & Gas Industry

The West Virginia Department of Education, Division of Technical, Adult and Institutional Education, Office of Career and Technical Instruction supervises the delivery of secondary and adult career and technical education programming in middle schools, high schools and technical centers throughout West Virginia. This office wishes to purchase the services of a researcher or research company to develop an analysis of anticipated job growth in the West Virginia gas industry associated with the development of the Marcellus Shale. The goal of the analysis is to provide the WVDE with a breakdown of high-demand occupations and of the skills required by these occupations, in order to take proactive steps designed to align the training and educational system with the emerging demand.

The WVDE will purchase research services that generate the following outcomes:

1. An examination of the natural gas job opportunities generated by the development of the Marcellus Shale in West Virginia, with a special focus on identifying occupations in demand and identifying the geographic regions of anticipated drilling;
2. Timeline for job growth, i.e., anticipated growth by occupation for the next 3-5 years;
3. Skill sets required for anticipated jobs;
4. Specific recommendations to WVDE regarding the creation or reformulation of existing education and/or training programs with the purpose of supporting the growth of the state's natural gas industry.

Deliverables – Vendor will deliver:

1. Research results in electronic and paper formats.

Terms and Conditions of the Contract

The purchase order for this contract will be issued to the low bidder who meets the qualifications. The successful bidder will be notified by purchase order from the West Virginia Purchasing Division.

Vendor Qualifications

Qualified bidders must meet the following criteria:

1. Organizations bidding on this project must have conducted a prior study of the Marcellus Shale (located in the Appalachian region) within the last three years. The previous study must have included in scope, development of job projections in the context of the Marcellus Shale.
2. Organizations bidding on this project must have prior experience working with state and/or local agencies involved with workforce development.

The survey is not conceived as a “scientific” survey designed to generate workforce demand – the latter will be derived from the amount of drilling taking place in the state. Rather the survey is to be used as one more set of data points to check and supplement the information collected during the in-depth interviews and other research. 	1
