SECTION THREE: PROJECT SPECIFICATIONS

1. Location: Agency is located at 201 Brooks Street, Charleston, WV 25301 and the Project will be completed at this location.
2. Background: Based upon our observation of the existing building we conclude that the exterior masonry skin is severely compromised and in an advanced state of deterioration. There is insufficient restraint, anchorage and attachment of the masonry and cast stone to other building structural elements and it is possible for these materials to disassociate themselves from the building, due to weathering, wind or thermal movement, and fall to the ground. Thus, the exterior skin of the Public Service Commission Building is failing and should be replaced as soon as practical to prevent further damage to the structure and to maintain public safety.
3. Qualifications and Experience: Vendors will provide information regarding its employees, such as staff qualifications and experience in completing similar projects; references; copies of any staff certifications or degrees applicable to this project; proposed staffing plan; descriptions of past projects completed entailing the location of the project, project manager name and contact information, type of project, and what the project goals and objectives were and how they were met.
4. Project and Goals: The project goals and objectives are:
 - 4.1. Further development of the three options, identified in the attached study, which will allow the agency to make an informed decision as to the preferred option.
 - 4.2. Timely development of the options so the agency can obtain the necessary repairs as soon as possible.
 - 4.3. Development and analysis of identified options and design (35% level) that will form the basis of soliciting bids on design completion and construction.

SECTION FOUR: VENDOR PROPOSAL, EVALUATION, & AWARD

1. Economy of Preparation: EOI's should be prepared simply and economically, providing a straightforward, concise description of firm's abilities to satisfy the requirements and goals and objectives of the EOI. Emphasis should be placed on completeness and clarity of content. The response sections should be labeled for ease of evaluation.
2. BIDS MUST NOT CONTAIN PRICE QUOTATIONS: The State shall select the best value solution according to §5G-1-3 of the West Virginia State Code. In accordance with the Code requirements, no "price" or "fee" information is requested or permitted in the bid response.
3. Evaluation and Award Process: Expressions of Interest for projects estimated to cost $250,000 or more will be evaluated and awarded in accordance with West Virginia Code §5G-1-3. That Code section requires the following:
 - 3.1. Required Elements of EOI Response: The director of purchasing shall encourage such firms engaged in the lawful practice of the profession to submit an expression of interest, which shall include a statement of qualifications, and performance data and may include anticipated concepts and proposed methods of approach to the project.
 - 3.2. Public Advertisement: All EOI requests shall be announced by public notice published as a Class II legal advertisement in compliance with the provisions of West Virginia Code §59-3-1 et seq.
 - 3.3. Selection Committee Evaluation & Negotiation: A committee comprised of three to five representatives of the agency initiating the request shall:
 - 3.3.1. Evaluate the statements of qualifications and performance data and other material submitted by the interested firms and select three firms which in their opinion are the best qualified to perform the desired service.
 - 3.3.2. Conduct interviews with each firm selected and the conduct discussions regarding anticipated concepts and the proposed methods of approach to the assignment.
 - 3.3.3. Rank in order of preference no less than three professional firms deemed to be the most highly qualified to provide the services required, and shall commence scope of service and price negotiations with the highest qualified professional firm.

3.3.4. Should the agency be unable to negotiate a satisfactory contract with the professional firm considered to be the most qualified, at a fee determined to be fair and reasonable, price negotiations with the firm of second choice shall commence. Failing accord with the second most qualified professional firm, the committee shall undertake price negotiations with the third most qualified professional firm.

3.3.5. Should the agency be unable to negotiate a satisfactory contract with any of the selected professional firms, it shall select additional professional firms in order of their competence and qualifications and it shall continue negotiations in accordance with this section until an agreement is reached.

3.4. Vendor Ranking: All evaluation criteria is defined in the Procurement Specifications section and based on a 100 point total score. Points shall be assigned based upon the Vendor's response to the evaluation criteria as follows:

• Qualifications and Experience	25 Points Possible

Assessment of the Masonry Construction

Prologue

Concern regarding exterior brick cracking on the facade of the West Virginia Public Service Commission headquarters, Swanke Hayden Connell Architects was initially engaged to conduct a visual evaluation of exterior masonry defects with particular emphasis on a tall, free standing brick arch in front of the building.

Inspected by architect Lou Krupnick, AIA and structural engineer Carol Stevens, PE the team identified the following failure modes on the façade:

Free-standing exterior arch: Split (fractured) brick, lateral displacement from the plane of the wall; spalled conditions and broken /displaced mortar joints; efflorescence indicating water/moisture penetration. Stone copings have been displaced from their original locations resulting in open head joints and minor fracturing of the units. Roofing in this area appears to be original and has exceeded its lifecycle by 10 years. Broken cast stone and pieces of brick were found on the sidewalk adjacent to the building.

All flat arches / exposed beams: Minor masonry spalling with some broken /displaced mortar joints; efflorescence indicating water/moisture penetration; spalled and cracked cast stone decorative beams.

Various portions of Exterior walls: Lateral displacement of the exterior brick veneer indicating horizontal movement between 1/4"- 3/8" at horizontal shelf joints adjacent to floor lines.

Concerned that public safety was at risk, Krupnick and Stevens recommended that the sidewalk immediately adjacent to the free standing arch be posted and closed immediately. Their initial findings were presented in a report dated November 23, 2012 and included recommendations that the free-standing masonry arch should be removed down to the first floor and that supplemental exploratory activities be conducted to determine the actual internal construction of the existing exterior wall. Architectural and engineering plans were developed for the Emergency Masonry Demolition at the WV PSC Headquarters and issued for bid on December 20, 2013. These documents contained provisions for the contractor to open the wall at 10 locations, to a size approximately 4 square feet in area, at each location to enable further visual inspection by the architect and engineer.

In early March 2013 the demolition contract was awarded by the State of West Virginia to Maynard C. Smith Construction and demolition commenced very shortly thereafter. After the masonry of the arch was removed, structural engineering review ascertained that the existing steel supporting the arch was suitable for re-use. This report presents the findings of the exploratory investigations which were also conducted as part of that effort.

Overview

In review of the widespread and diverse range of masonry defects at the West Virginia Public Service Commission Headquarters, it would not be plausible to assign a single responsibility to account for the wide range of deficiencies observed during our exploration. Although our examination of the original design did not include project specifications, the drawings we reviewed did show the basic technical sophistication necessary to execute the level of construction required by the building's design.

Review of the existing drawings showed that many of the typical masonry components which are provided to remove water from the wall were poorly described, as it was tradition to leave much of these details to the contractor. Flashings, which direct water toward the exterior of the wall, were incompletely detailed and although it could not have been known to the Architect at the time, history would later prove that the materials and products they specified for this task would not stand the test of time.

Whatever shortcomings may have been inherent to the building's technical design were only compounded by the masonry contractor and many elements, are either missing or horribly executed. Included among these are the location, placement and type of masonry wall reinforcement, cast stone attachment & fixings, installation of wall flashings and weep holes, and the construction of masonry expansion and relief joints (shelf angles).

Our explorations found the following type of defects:

Inadequate horizontal masonry wall reinforcement- The required reinforcement which secures the brick and cast stone elements to the building is missing or inadequately spaced, if present at all. The building was not constructed as required by the building codes in effect at the time of construction. Incorrect and improper types of wall reinforcement were used.

In this opening which is approximately 40" x 48", we should have seen a minimum of two brick ties in this area. Instead, there is ladder type CMU reinforcement ~2 courses down from the top. It is not meant for brick construction and is almost completely corroded thru. Also note missing backup.

Lack of continuity of masonry backup: Masonry backup is used to provide attachment points for face brick and decorative masonry, including the cast stone units, to the building. Inspection of backup at both flat and horizontal arches showed that the masonry backup has voids or gaps up to 2"-3" wide x 12"-16" tall at places, is not contiguous, and has almost no support or continuity provided at critical points within the arch (keystone). In many instances, we could not determine what was actually holding the brick in place.

Photograph is taken at the center of the arch over the front entrance:
Note the gaps and masonry rubble in this critical location

Improperly executed wall flashings: Wall flashings were not provided in many locations where 'best practices' in effect at the time would have suggested they should be present. All wall flashings observed were found to be improperly executed; constructed with their outermost edge placed 1" to 1-1/2" in-board from face of the wall. (Flashings should at a minimum extend flush to the face of the wall; and projected 3/8" beyond that plane is preferred). The majority of flashings observed could not perform properly and would thus serve to drain moisture back into the wall, rather to expel it as per their intended function. As we observed, one of the results of having this moisture retained inside the wall was excessive corrosion of masonry reinforcement (galvanized steel) and in several instances, as much as 50% of original cross sectional area of this reinforcement had rusted away.

Note that the flashing is torn and forward edge of the flashing is located about 1" back from the face of the wall. This allows any water which had been caught by the flashing above to drain back down into the wall, rather than out across the face. Flashing is also not well secured to the backup.

Improperly executed expansion joints: Joints which allow the wall to move in response to thermally induced movement were improperly designed and executed.

Improperly executed brick shelves and relieving angles: Shelf angles normally serve to provide structural support for exterior brick masonry at each floor level and provide a slip joint which permits differential movement of the masonry, independent from the walls above and below. None of the brick shelves / relief angles we observed had been properly constructed. As we observed, the design of the structural steel brick shelves did not provide for the any vertical adjustment. Review of conditions inside the wall demonstrated they had either been improperly located with respect to the masonry coursing and, the mason failed to adjust the spacing of the brick joints to align with the shelf angle.

Shelf angle did not align horizontally with brick coursing, so a thin, 1/2" tk sliver of brick was attached to back up. Flashing does not extend to the face of the wall, so any water captured by it is directed back into the wall.

The masonry construction at shelf angles locations (all three floors and roof) is strikingly unusual in that the actual construction is upside down and backwards; it is been reversed from what normally would should have been expected. We surmise this may have resulted from the contractor having attempted to recover from a mistake and it can be observed where a thin, 1/2" thick sliver of brick has been laminated or patched to the face of a 'back-up' brick. This construction extends the perimeter of the building and is responsible for the lateral displacement of the brick in this plane by as much 1/2".

One thing which is painfully clear is that given the frequency and enormity of these defects, they would have been immediately obvious to anyone who may have been looking. Hence, we can only assume that there was little or no construction supervision.

Inspection Review Process

To maintain a degree of objectivity the inspectors chose to perform independent inspections and would later re-join to compare findings. Both spent the better part of a day cataloguing and making observations from atop the contractors' man-lift and afterwards, their documentation and assessment was submitted for further review by Mr. Gregg Borchelt, Director of the Brick Institute of America. The analyses of both the architect and structural engineer were consistent to each other and Mr. Borchelt was in general concurrence with their overall assessment, as well.

Conclusions

Based upon our observation of the existing building we conclude that the exterior masonry skin is severely compromised and in an advanced stage of deterioration. We have observed there is insufficient restraint, anchorage and attachment of the masonry and cast stone to other building structural elements and it is possible for these materials to disassociate themselves from the building, due to weathering, wind or thermal movement, and fall to the ground. Small, 'fist size' pieces of brick and cast stone have been found around the perimeter of the building.

Lateral displacement of brick and mortar joints at the underside of an arch. Also note efflorescence, the white tell-tale sign that water has entered the wall and is leaching outwards.

The horizontal and flat arches which are prevalent on the north, south and west facades show advanced deterioration and may present a public threat to those entering the building or walking alongside the sidewalk. Although every arch could not be individually opened and inspected, all have the same design origin and each exhibit consistent patterns of visual distress including water infiltration; freeze/thaw cracking, and lateral movement. Displacement of the brick, copings and cast stone and to a lesser extent, mortar joint failures may be observed from the ground.

We have recommended the Contractor and Public Service Commission erect temporary safety barricades and overhead protection from falling materials at the north and south building entrances. These protective measures should be extended adjacent to the perimeter along Brooks ST. It should be noted that we did not see evidence of mold growth inside any of the wall cavities.

Recommendations

The exterior skin of the Public Service Commission Building is failing and should, in our professional opinion, be replaced as soon as practical to prevent further damage to the structure and to maintain public safety. The following repair scenarios are presented below for consideration:

1. Simple repair of the existing masonry is not feasible- Although a notoriously slow process, it is technically possible to remove small, 36" x 18" high sections of masonry at the first, second and third floor and roof shelf angle locations, to rebuild the shelf angles and re-install new flashings; working the length of the 270' building perimeter of the. In addition, hundreds of feet of cast stone trim would have to be removed, new flashings installed top and bottom and then re-secured to the building. Finally, the exterior wall building would have to be opened up both horizontally and vertically at 2' centers to permit installation of new horizontal masonry reinforcement.

We believe this endeavor would leave the skin of the building severely pockmarked due to the difficulty of matching the mortar color in so many locations. This is a tedious, time consuming and expensive process better suited for historic or monumental structures.

2. Remove the existing brick and start over again- This option represents a viable solution in which the existing brick and cast stone could be removed from the building in 20' wide sections and then be re-built with new brick, new flashings, new masonry reinforcement and new windows. Shelf angles would be cut out, demolished and replaced with new angles.

The downside to this process is the lengthy demolition and reconstruction process which would likely include removal of ceiling tile in order to provide access to new shelf angles. We suspect the disruption from this this scenario would likely take twice as long as the one presented in Scenario 3 below.

3. Remove the brick from the second and third floors, replace with glazed curtain wall: Another solution would be to remove most of the existing masonry, leaving just enough to recall the original building, and replace the rest with a glass curtain wall. This has the benefit of being a relatively quick process in which the curtain wall is prefabricated, brought to the site and then erected in short order. This process trades off a significantly reduced construction period and down-time against more expensive construction. Original cast stone features of the building could be replicated or alluded to through the use of glass.

This scheme would also provide the opportunity to achieve energy savings through improved day lighting. New diffusers and perimeter electrical convenience outlets would need to be added; short construction process & less down time in comparison to Scheme 2.

4. Repair / re-build former arch on the southwest corner of the building: Design of this feature should complement the new exterior skin and incorporate the existing sun screen.

We recommend further investigation of each of the above design solutions to review the implications of construction timing, down-time and disruption to the agency and overall cost.

Any waiver must be expressly stated in writing and signed by the waiving party.
- 33. SUBSEQUENT FORMS: The terms and conditions contained in this Contract shall supersede any and all subsequent terms and conditions which may appear on any form documents submitted by Vendor to the Agency or Purchasing Division such as price lists, order forms, invoices, sales agreements, or maintenance agreements, and includes internet websites or other electronic documents. Acceptance or use of Vendor's forms does not constitute acceptance of the terms and conditions contained thereon.

ASSIGNMENT: Neither this Contract nor any monies due, or to become due hereunder, may be assigned by the Vendor without the express written consent of the Agency, the Purchasing Division, the Attorney General's office (as to form only), and any other government agency or office that may be required to approve such assignments. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Purchasing Division approval may or may not be required on certain agency delegated or exempt purchases.

- 38. HIPAA BUSINESS ASSOCIATE ADDENDUM: The West Virginia State Government HIPAA Business Associate Addendum (BAA), approved by the Attorney General, is available online at <http://www.state.wv.us/admin/purchase/vrc/hipaa.html> and is hereby made part of the agreement provided that the Agency meets the definition of a Covered entity (45 CFR §160.103) and will be disclosing Protected Health Information (45 CFR §160.103) to the Vendor. Additionally, the HIPAA Privacy, Security, Enforcement & Breach Notification Final Omnibus Rule was published on January 25, 2013. It may be viewed online at <http://www.gpo.gov/fdsys/pkg/FR-2013-01-25/pdf/2013-01073.pdf>. Any organization, that qualifies as the Agency's Business Associate, is expected to be in compliance with this Final Rule. For those Business Associates entering into contracts with a HIPAA Covered State Agency between January 25, 2013 and the release of the 2013 WV State Agency Business Associate Agreement, or September 23, 2013 (whichever is earlier), be advised that you will be required to comply with the 2013 WV State Agency Business Associate Agreement. For those Business Associates with contracts with a HIPAA Covered State Agency executed prior to January 25, 2013, be advised that upon renewal or modification, you will be required to comply with the 2013 WV State Agency Business Associate Agreement no later than September 22, 2014.
- 39. CONFIDENTIALITY: The Vendor agrees that it will not disclose to anyone, directly or indirectly, any such personally identifiable information or other confidential information gained from the Agency, unless the individual who is the subject of the information consents to the disclosure in writing or the disclosure is made pursuant to the Agency's policies, procedures, and rules. Vendor further agrees to comply with the Confidentiality Policies and Information Security Accountability Requirements, set forth in <http://www.state.wv.us/admin/purchase/privacy/default.html>.
- 40. Those laws include, but are not limited to, the Freedom of Information Act found in West Virginia Code § 29B-1-1 et seq.

If a Vendor considers any part of its bid to be exempt from public disclosure, Vendor must so indicate by specifically identifying the exempt information, identifying the exemption that applies, providing a detailed justification for the exemption, segregating the exempt information from the general bid information, and submitting the exempt information as part of its bid but in a segregated and clearly identifiable format. Failure to comply with the foregoing requirements will result in public disclosure of the Vendor's bid without further notice. A Vendor's act of marking all or nearly all of its bid as exempt is not sufficient to avoid disclosure and WILL NOT BE HONORED. Vendor's act of marking a bid or any part thereof as "confidential" or "proprietary" is not sufficient to avoid disclosure and WILL NOT BE HONORED. In addition, a legend or other statement indicating that all or substantially all of the bid is exempt from disclosure is not sufficient to avoid disclosure and WILL NOT BE HONORED. Vendor will be required to defend any claimed exemption for nondisclosure in the event of an administrative or judicial challenge to the State's nondisclosure. Vendor must indemnify the State for any costs incurred related to any exemptions claimed by Vendor. Any questions regarding the applicability of the various public records laws should be addressed to your own legal counsel prior to bid submission.

Upon request, the Vendor must provide all necessary releases to obtain information to enable the Purchasing Division Director or the Agency to verify that the Vendor is licensed and in good standing with the above entities.
- 42. ANTITRUST: In submitting a bid to, signing a contract with, or accepting a Purchase Order from any agency of the State of West Virginia, the Vendor agrees to convey, sell, assign, or transfer to the State of West Virginia all rights, title, and interest in and to all causes of action it may now or hereafter acquire under the antitrust laws of the United States and the State of West Virginia for price fixing and/or unreasonable restraints of trade relating to the particular commodities or services purchased or acquired by the State of West Virginia. Such assignment shall be made and become effective at the time the purchasing agency tenders the initial payment to Vendor.
- 43. VENDOR CERTIFICATIONS: By signing its bid or entering into this Contract, Vendor certifies (1) that its bid was made without prior understanding, agreement, or connection with any corporation, firm, limited liability company, partnership, person or entity submitting a bid for the same material, supplies, equipment or services; (2) that its bid is in all respects fair and without collusion or fraud; (3) that this Contract is accepted or entered into without any prior understanding, agreement, or connection to any other entity that could be considered a violation of law; and (4) that it has reviewed this RFQ in its entirety; understands the requirements, terms and conditions, and other information contained herein. Vendor's signature on its bid also affirms that neither it nor its representatives have any interest, nor shall acquire any interest, direct or indirect, which would compromise the performance of its services hereunder. Any such interests shall be promptly presented in detail to the Agency.

The individual signing this bid on behalf of Vendor certifies that he or she is authorized by the Vendor to execute this bid or any documents related thereto on Vendor's behalf; that he or she is authorized to bind the Vendor in a contractual relationship; and that, to the best of his or her knowledge, the Vendor has properly registered with any State agency that may require registration.

- 44. The Vendor must accept the State of West Virginia's Purchasing Card for payment of all orders under this Contract unless the box below is checked.

Vendor is not required to accept the State of West Virginia's Purchasing Card as payment for all goods and services.

- 45. VENDOR RELATIONSHIP: The relationship of the Vendor to the State shall be that of an independent contractor and no principal-agent relationship or employer-employee relationship is contemplated or created by this Contract. The Vendor as an independent contractor is solely liable for the acts and omissions of its employees and agents. Vendor shall be responsible for selecting, supervising, and compensating any and all individuals employed pursuant to the terms of this Solicitation and resulting contract. Neither the Vendor, nor any employees or subcontractors of the Vendor, shall be deemed to be employees of the State for any purpose whatsoever. Vendor shall be exclusively responsible for payment of employees and contractors for all wages and salaries, taxes, withholding payments, penalties, fees, fringe benefits, professional liability insurance premiums, contributions to insurance and pension, or other deferred compensation plans, including but not limited to, Workers' Compensation and Social Security obligations, licensing fees, etc. and the filing of all necessary documents, forms and returns pertinent to all of the foregoing. INDEMNIFICATION: The Vendor agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless the State and the Agency, their officers, and employees from and against: (1) Any claims or losses for services rendered by any subcontractor, person, or firm performing or supplying services, materials, or supplies in connection with the performance of the Contract; (2) Any claims or losses resulting to any person or entity injured or damaged by the Vendor, its officers, employees, or subcontractors by the publication, translation, reproduction, delivery, performance, use, or disposition of any data used under the Contract in a manner not authorized by the Contract, or by Federal or State statutes or regulations; and (3) Any failure of the Vendor, its officers, employees, or subcontractors to observe State and Federal laws including, but not limited to, labor and wage and hour laws.

- 47. PURCHASING AFFIDAVIT: In accordance with West Virginia Code § 5A-3-10a, all Vendors are required to sign, notarize, and submit the Purchasing Affidavit stating that neither the Vendor nor a related party owe a debt to the State in excess of $1,000. The affidavit must be submitted prior to award, but should be submitted with the Vendor's bid. A copy of the Purchasing Affidavit is included herewith.
- 48. ADDITIONAL AGENCY AND LOCAL GOVERNMENT USE: This Contract may be utilized by and extends to other agencies, spending units, and political subdivisions of the State of West Virginia; county, municipal, and other local government bodies; and school districts ("Other Government Entities"). This Contract shall be extended to the aforementioned Other Government Entities on the same prices, terms, and conditions as those offered and agreed to in this Contract. If the Vendor does not wish to extend the prices, terms, and conditions of its bid and subsequent contract to the Other Government Entities, the Vendor must clearly indicate such refusal in its bid. A refusal to extend this Contract to the Other Government Entities shall not impact or influence the award of this Contract in any manner.
- 49. CONFLICT OF INTEREST: Vendor, its officers or members or employees, shall not presently have or acquire any interest, direct or indirect, which would conflict with or compromise the performance of its obligations hereunder. Vendor shall periodically inquire of its officers, members and employees to ensure that a conflict of interest does not arise. Any conflict of interest discovered shall be promptly presented in detail to the Agency.

50. REPORTS: Vendor shall provide the Agency and/or the Purchasing Division with the following reports identified by a checked box below:

51. BACKGROUND CHECK: In accordance with W. Va. Code § 15-2D-3, the Director of the Division of Protective Services shall require any service provider whose employees are regularly employed on the grounds or in the buildings of the Capitol complex or who have access to sensitive or critical information to submit to a fingerprint-based state and federal background inquiry through the state repository. The service provider is responsible for any costs associated with the fingerprint-based state and federal background inquiry.

After the contract for such services has been approved, but before any such employees are permitted to be on the grounds or in the buildings of the Capitol complex or have access to sensitive or critical information, the service provider shall submit a list of all persons who will be physically present and working at the Capitol complex to the Director of the Division of Protective Services for purposes of verifying compliance with this provision.

The State reserves the right to prohibit a service provider's employees from accessing sensitive or critical information or to be present at the Capitol complex based upon results addressed from a criminal background check.

Service providers should contact the West Virginia Division of Protective Services by phone at (304) 558-9911 for more information.

52. PREFERENCE FOR USE OF DOMESTIC STEEL PRODUCTS: Except when authorized by the Director of the Purchasing Division pursuant to W. Va. Code § 5A-3-56, no contractor may use or supply steel products for a State Contract Project other than those steel products made in the United States. A contractor who uses steel products in violation of this section may be subject to civil penalties pursuant to W. Va. Code § 5A-3-56. As used in this section:

- a. "State Contract Project" means any erection or construction of, or any addition to, alteration of or other improvement to any building or structure, including, but not limited to, roads or highways, or the installation of any heating or cooling or ventilating plants or other equipment, or the supply of and materials for such projects, pursuant to a contract with the State of West Virginia for which bids were solicited on or after June 6, 2001.
- b. "Steel Products" means products rolled, formed, shaped, drawn, extruded, forged, cast, fabricated or otherwise similarly processed, or processed by a combination of two or more or such operations, from steel made by the open heath, basic oxygen, electric furnace, Bessemer or other steel making process.

The Purchasing Division Director may, in writing, authorize the use of foreign steel products if:

- a. The cost for each contract item used does not exceed one tenth of one percent (.1%) of the total contract cost or two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500.00), whichever is greater. For the purposes of this section, the cost is the value of the steel product as delivered to the project; or
- b. The Director of the Purchasing Division determines that specified steel materials are not produced in the United States in sufficient quantity or otherwise are not reasonably available to meet contract requirements.

53. PREFERENCE FOR USE OF DOMESTIC ALUMINUM, GLASS, AND STEEL: In Accordance with W. Va. Code § 5-19-1 et seq., and W. Va. CSR § 148-10-1 et seq., for every contract or subcontract, subject to the limitations contained herein, for the construction, reconstruction, alteration, repair, improvement or maintenance of public works or for the purchase of any item of machinery or equipment to be used at sites of public works, only domestic aluminum, glass or steel products shall be supplied unless the spending officer determines, in writing, after the receipt of offers or bids, (1) that the cost of domestic aluminum, glass or steel products is unreasonable or inconsistent with the public interest of the State of West Virginia, (2) that domestic aluminum, glass or steel products are not produced in sufficient quantities to meet the contract requirements, or (3) the available domestic aluminum, glass, or steel do not meet the contract specifications. This provision only applies to public works contracts awarded in an amount more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or public works contracts that require more than ten thousand pounds of steel products.

The cost of domestic aluminum, glass, or steel products may be unreasonable if the cost is more than twenty percent (20%) of the bid or offered price for foreign made aluminum, glass, or steel products. If the domestic aluminum, glass or steel products to be supplied or produced in a “substantial labor surplus area”, as defined by the United States Department of Labor, the cost of domestic aluminum, glass, or steel products may be unreasonable if the cost is more than thirty percent (30%) of the bid or offered price for foreign made aluminum, glass, or steel products.

This preference shall be applied to an item of machinery or equipment, as indicated above, when the item is a single unit of equipment or machinery manufactured primarily of aluminum, glass or steel, is part of a public works contract and has the sole purpose or of being a permanent part of a single public works project. This provision does not apply to equipment or machinery purchased by a spending unit for use by that spending unit and not as part of a single public works project.

All bids and offers including domestic aluminum, glass or steel products that exceed bid or offer prices including foreign aluminum, glass or steel products after application of the preferences provided in this provision may be reduced to a price equal to or lower than the lowest bid or offer price for foreign aluminum, glass or steel products plus the applicable preference. If the reduced bid or offer prices are made in writing and supersede the prior bid or offer prices, all bids or offers, including the reduced bid or offer prices, will be reevaluated in accordance with this rule.
