WSH14122 Addendum #1

Response to vendor questions:

QUESTION #1: I have a question regarding WSH14122 line number 0004 Cisco Flexstack 50cm stacking cable. Does this need to be exactly 50cm or longer or will whatever length the manufacturer provides as long as the cable reaches the adjacent switch when stacked?

RESPONSE: A cable 30cm in length instead of 50cm would meet the requirement. Exact cable lengths are not required, what we need is the cable the manufacturer designed to connect adjacent switches in a stack. For Cisco it is 50cm, but we understand that other manufacturers cable lengths vary and that is fine.
