Carol Throckmorton gave a brief welcoming statement and asked everyone to introduce themselves.

Ms. Throckmorton presented the stakeholders with another run through of the E-Waste website. Phil Mann spoke on the new additions that were added since the August meeting. Members gave input on webpage and thoughts for suggested materials. Carol stated that in the interest of getting the website information out, she felt it would be best to have it up and running by the first of November. Target date was November 8th in order to present the information to all in attendance of the fall educational conference.

Stakeholders were presented with the educational materials prepared to announce the landfill ban and a timeline for notice. Comments were received for changes/additions to materials. Due to the minimal representation of target group members, very little input was received on fact sheets.

Discussion was brought about regarding plans for facilities to advertise ban date. Ms. Archibald stated that Waste Management hopes to handout info during the free day events at their facilities prior to the ban date. Judy also stated that WM is reviewing the cost effective factor in handling and transportation of the e-waste materials.

Group decided to meet again during the month of February to discuss actual issues or concerns that are brought about after the ban has been in effect for one month.

Next meeting will be determined at a later date.
