

WORKSHEET FOR
MOLDS, JIGS, DIES, FORMS, PATTERNS
AND TEMPLATES

1. Specialized Manufacturing Production Property

Please list all molds, jigs, dies, forms, patterns, and templates directly used in the manufacturing process. Manufacturing means a systematic operation or integrated series of systematic operations engaged in as a business or segment of a business which transforms or converts tangible personal property by physical, chemical or other means into a different form, composition or character from which it originally existed. (Please attach additional sheets if needed).

Specialized manufacturing production property does not include property used for research and development, computers or computer software, layout and design, repair equipment, drawings, blueprints or blueprinting, quality control equipment, packing or packaging. In addition, no molds, jigs, dies, forms, patterns or templates involved in the activities of the construction of buildings, structures or other facilities, retailing, agriculture, food processing or food manufacturing, retail food sales or preparation, restaurant, or any activity of severing, producing, processing, or extracting any natural resource. These are to be listed as Specialized Non-Manufacturing Property in No. 2 below.
