NOTE: This addendum acknowledgment should be submitted with the bid to expedite document processing.

Q4: 3.1.1.14 Must mower be flail type? Would you allow a rotary cutter in place?

A4: Yes, the attachment we are looking for is the flail type. No, a rotary cutter would not be accepted.

Q5: The required specifications list the machine must have an extendable arm. Below is a chart listed for the machine that we can quote (Develon DX63-7). It would not have an extendable arm, but we can quote with our long arm. Can you please verify that the reach would be sufficient?

A5: The mandatory extendable arm must have a minimum reach at ground level should be 265.2 in., or greater.

Q6: The required specifications list the machine must have an angle blade. Develon currently only offers a straight blade. Is this something that would be absolutely needed?

A6: Yes, the attachment we are looking for is an angle blade due to the nature of the work that the excavator is intended for.
