EIN Number Clarification

Dear Sir or Madam,

We are writing to clarify a question which arose regarding the Form W-9 we recently provided and which EIN should be used for payments to us.

The EIN listed in Part I of the W-9 is the EIN of our US parent company, Brenntag North America LC. This is required by the IRS when filling out W-9 forms for entities classified as “disregarded entities” for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Under those rules, the W-9 must reflect the parent entity’s information, even where business is conducted through a subsidiary.

Importantly, this does not change how you should do business with us, nor does it require you to use a different EIN from the one you historically used. Brenntag Mid-South remains a distinct legal entity under applicable state law, and it is the entity with which you contract and to which payments should be made. Accordingly:

- You should continue to use Brenntag Mid-South’s name and EIN (61-0504545) for payment, invoicing, and accounts payable purposes, exactly as you have done previously.
- The inclusion of the parent EIN on the W-9 is solely a federal tax reporting requirement and does not indicate that the Brenntag Mid-South EIN is no longer valid or should no longer be used for payment.
- In short, the W-9 format reflects IRS rules and does not alter our legal or commercial relationship, nor your payment instructions. The EIN you have used in the past for Brenntag Mid-South remains the correct EIN to use going forward.

If you have any questions, please reach out to your Brenntag representative. Please also feel free to confirm this information with a tax or legal professional if you wish for verification.

Thank you for your continued business.

With best regards,
